Seneca Valley High School Construction Site.

We, the Class of '64, have been given the honor of publishing the last yearbook of Zelienople High School. Because of the traditions set by alumni and previous faculties, who have given us a heritage to be proud of, we feel it necessary to review those memories and add a few of our own. A special section has been set aside to summarize briefly the high points of the school's history.

We have tried to capture the spirit and vitality of our school life through thorough coverage of the year's activities and achievements.

We have chosen purple and gold for the cover because we feel our school colors are only appropriate for this final edition of the Zelie Ann. The leaves appearing throughout the book symbolize the passing of the years and the reaping of memories.

It is with sincere appreciation that we present this Zelie Ann to those who have contributed in numerous ways to the promotion of our local high school education.

As the foreword of the 1923 Zelie Ann states,

"All things must come to an end they say;
The sunset comes, and the end of day."
And so, the sun sets on Zelie High,
Awaiting tomorrow with a reminiscent sigh.

Our aim has been to link this glorious sunset with the dawning of a new day — Seneca Valley High School.

The first high school building, a two-story, four room structure, has been the heart of Zelienople High School for over a half century. The $12,000, buff brick building was erected in 1909 and so designed that future additions would not mar its appearance. Each of the four classrooms was designed to seat forty-five pupils.

In 1926, the first enlargement and remodeling took place. The $85,000 addition included the auditorium, dining hall, and four rooms on the south side of the building. In 1935, the typing, mathematics, and chemistry rooms were added. The final enlargement produced the biology, library, and home economic classrooms, and the two portables for shop and music. In 1957 the music portable was destroyed by fire and was replaced by a one-room, red brick structure. Since, the Varner Building has served as departments for art and recently, special education. For six years the seventh grade, included in the student body of Zelig High, has attended classes at the Home School of the Lutheran Children's Home.

From a building with a capacity of 180 pupils, Zelienople High School has expanded to a student body of over six hundred.

ZELIE'S HERITAGE RICH IN VISIONARIES,

Mr. John E. Kocher

The first faculty has grown from six to the present thirty-four. Mr. Kocher once wrote, "The high school instructor, no less than the primary teacher, may still inspire hero worship and be the idol of the pupil."

Mr. John Kocher, founder and first principal of Zelienople High School, was born on a farm north of Zelienople, July 22, 1870. After graduating from Slippery Rock State Normal School (now Slippery Rock State College) in 1895, he came to Zelienople to teach. He was instrumental in introducing a three year high school course which began in 1896. Four classes graduated according to this plan. Because of his success in this program, a separate building for high school education was erected.

Besides laying the foundation of local high school education, Mr. Kocher edited Zelienople's weekly newspaper for thirty years. Mr. Kocher's keen interest in civic and educational advancements of the community continued until his death in 1958.

ALUMNI, SPORTS, ENDURING ACTIVITIES

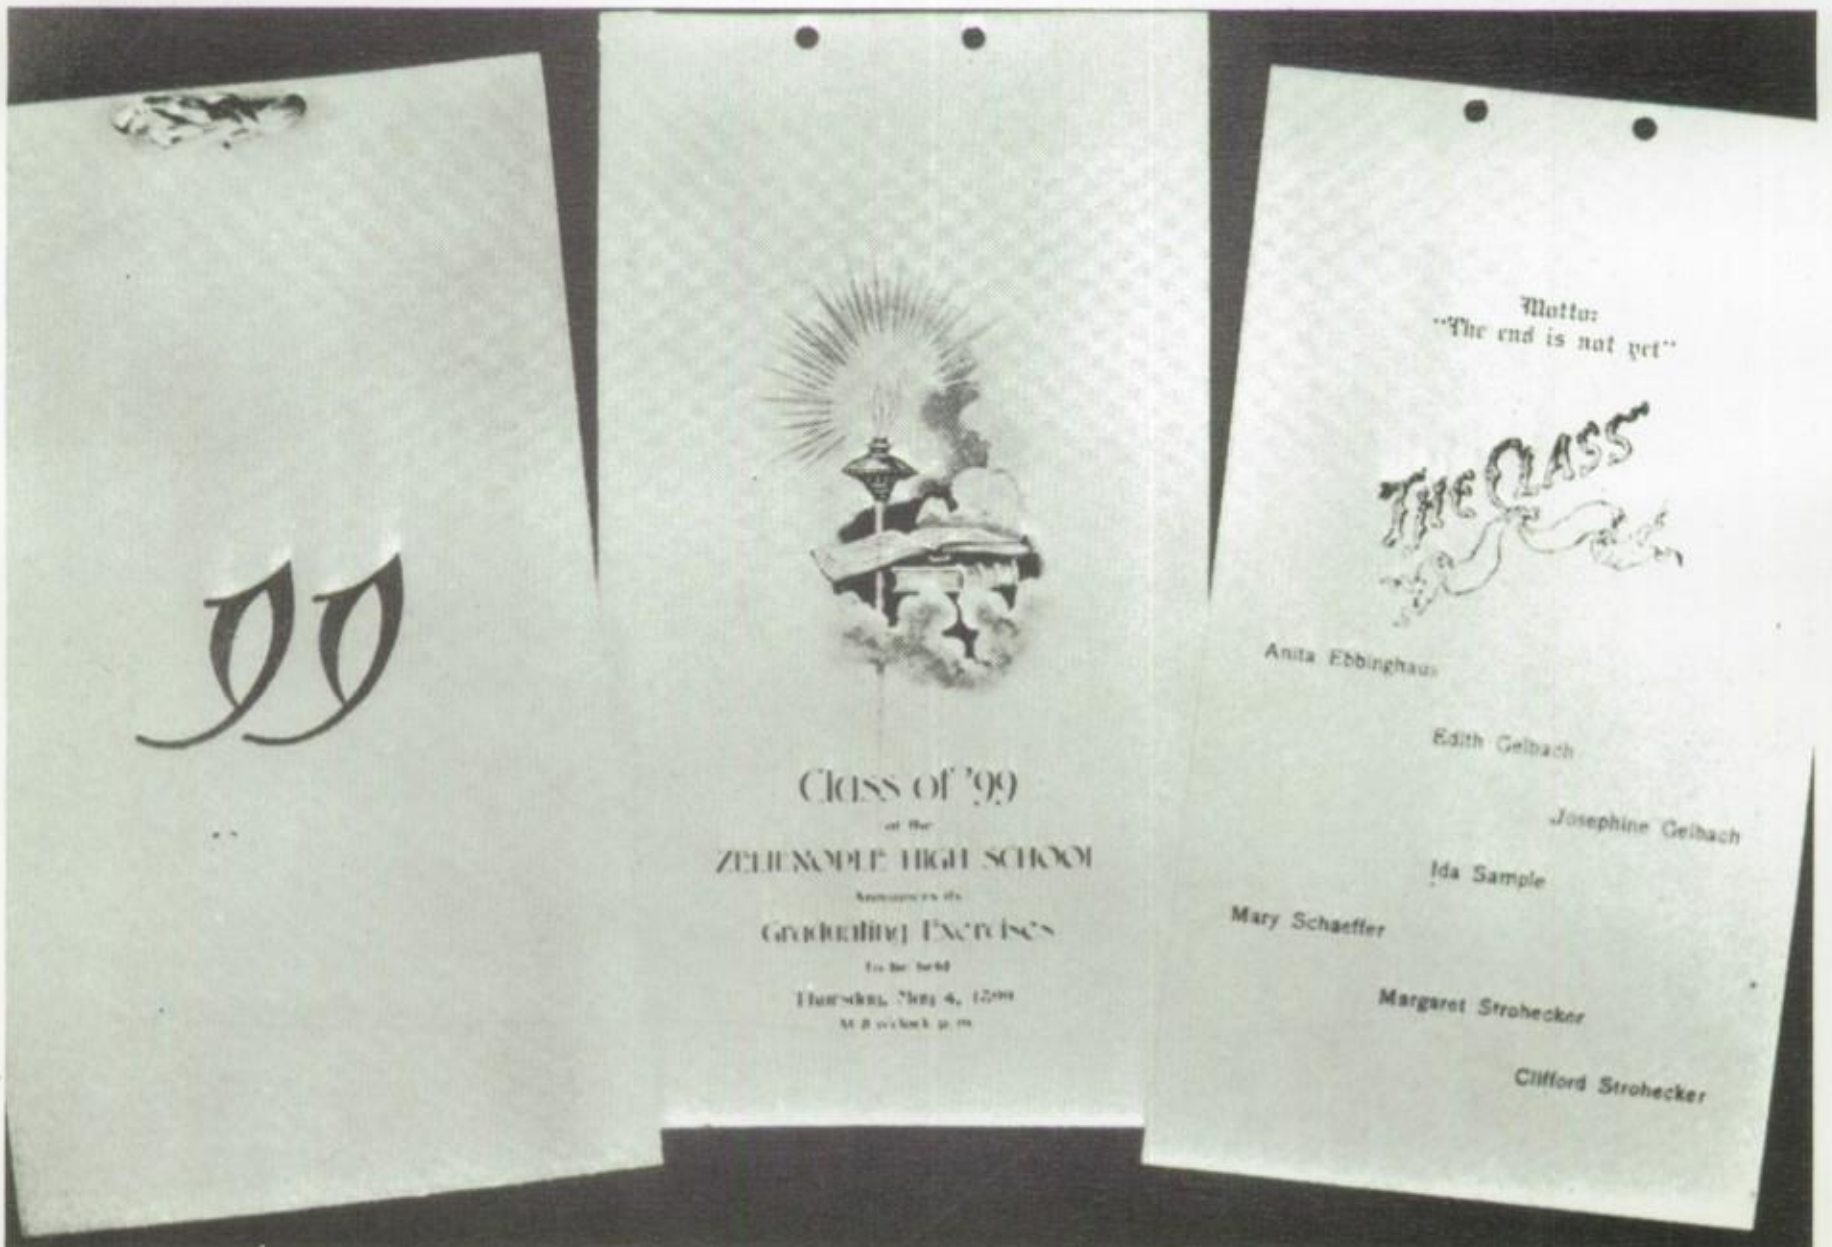

"The pupils, I suspect, are about the same kind of pupils we had when ZHS was young. Some diligent, some dilatory; some keen and capable, some dull and careless; some scarcely ever out of place, others equally seldom in place." — John E. Kocher

The Class of '99, the first graduating class of Zelienople High School, held classes in a room in the Main Street School building. Their freshman class in 1896 consisted of fifteen pupils of which Mr. Kocher was principal, head of every department, and teacher of every class. In Mr. Kocher's own words, "I and my fifteen pupils were the whole cheese."

The following year, 1897, a new wing was added to the Main Street School for their use. Mr. Kocher's class of seven seniors included: Anite Ebbinghaus, Edith Gelbach, Josephine Gelbach, Ida Sample, Mary Schaeffer, Margaret Strohecker, and Clifford Strohecker. Mr. Kocher and his pupils remained in this building until September, 1910.

Football and basketball were begun at Zelienople in 1922. The pictures below are the lettermen of the second football and basketball teams. This is the first photographic record. Zelie has had its good and bad seasons. In 1926 the Bears had the highest score recorded in the state for that year. In 1959, Lou Skurcenski set the high scoring record in a varsity basketball game, when he totaled up 40 points. In 1962, Bill Tait shot for 31 points to break our record in a single junior varsity game.

The trophy, pictured at the right, was won by the basketball team of 1932. This was the first WPIAL trophy awarded our school in interscholastic sports.

1932 WPIAL Champions

The Zelienople High School band was organized in 1930 by Mr. Meizer, a representative of an instrument company. In 1931, the band presented their first concert under the direction of Mr. Gerald Smith, first music instructor at Zelienople.

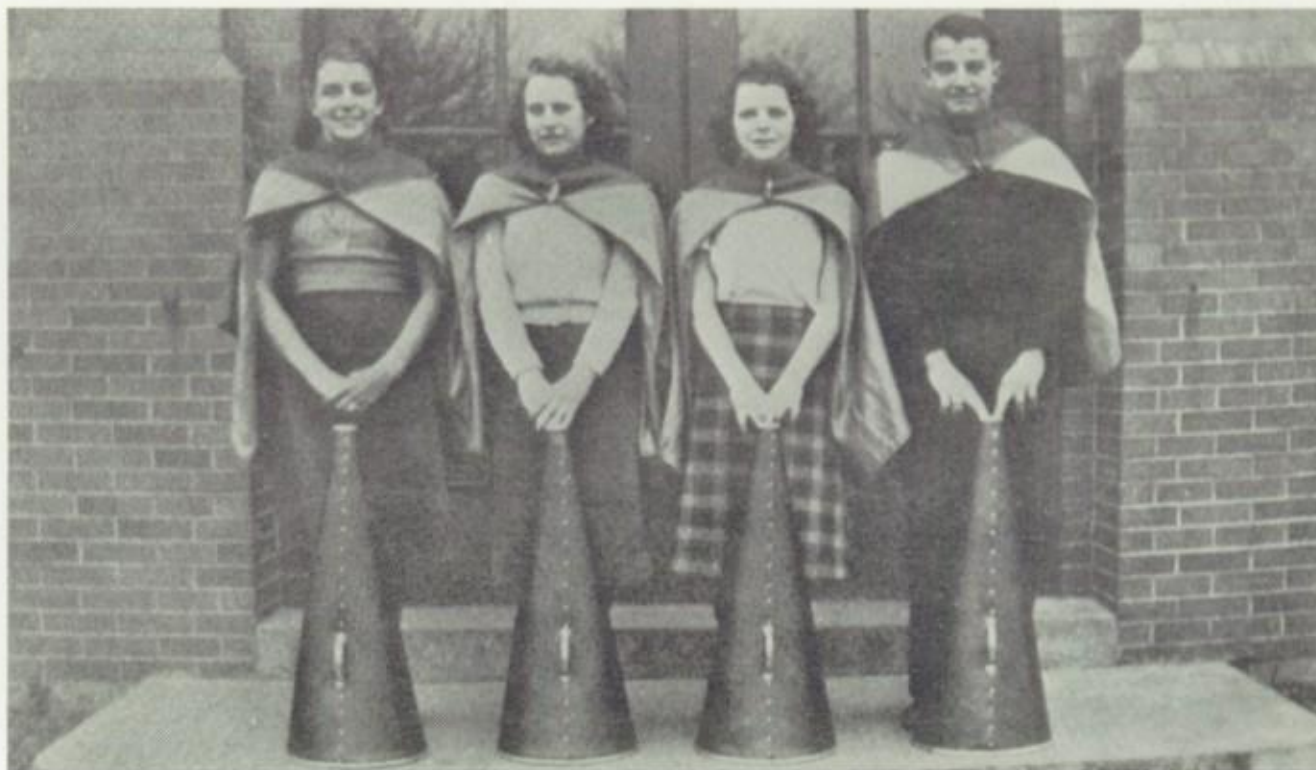

For years the band met in a portable attached to the present shop building. In 1957, this building was destroyed by fire. With the aid of the band mothers and community drives, instruments and music, which had been damaged by the fire, were replaced, and a brick building was constructed to be used as the music room. In the past, the band has repaid the community with mid-game performances, parades, and annual concerts.

The publishing of the Zelig Ann began in 1923 and has continued each year with the exception of 1924. The yearbooks have been edited by staffs made up of students chosen from the senior class. Each annual has served as a remembrance of the many happenings connected with the years spent in high school.

Our school government began in the spring of 1949. It didn't become active until the fall of that year. The Student Council offers class representation and helps keep the school running smoothly.

Although there have been cheerleaders recorded as far back as the first athletic teams, the picture above is the first picture of a cheering squad printed in a yearbook. These were the school's spirit leaders in 1939. In each year of their existence, the cheerleaders have led our teams to glorious wins and gracious defeats.

A standard class ring design was adopted for ZHS on March 24, 1933. Previous to this, each class voted upon the design of their ring. On one side of the ring is engraved the Bassenheim Castle, which stood overlooking Zelienople until 1842, when it was destroyed by fire. The castle, symbolizing age and tradition, was built by Detmar Basse, founder of Zelienople. The open book resting on the burning torch, on the other side of the stone, symbolizes light through learning, light to dispel ignorance.

The first May Queen to reign in Zelienople High School was Carolyn Frankenstein (Mrs. Kenneth Altemus). This crowning took place at the football field in May of 1951. The May Queen is chosen from the senior class by the entire student body. Beauty is not the only requisite of a May Queen, for she must have intelligence and a pleasing personality.

Sales in food and tickets were boosted by the effort and enthusiasm of our senior advisers. This was just one phase of our class activities to which you devoted much of your time.

YOU'VE BEEN MORE

These books represent your interests as well as your professions, and we will always associate them with you.

THAN TEACHERS SO . . .

How right, how absolutely fitting that this book be dedicated to you, Miss Loerch and Miss Stout. Being not only our yearbook, but the last one Zelienople is to have, it holds double significance. Because you both are so much a part of our education, of our class, of the yearbook, and of the very school as to be inseparable from any of these, we really had no choice to make. You made it for us long ago.

You are the rare and wonderful teachers — creative, demanding, understanding, and, perhaps most important, really interested in us. In class (English of course) we never felt the familiar boredom of repetition because your classes offered a real challenge in the fields of English, Literature, and Theater. After school, you gave so much of your time and priceless knowledge to the plays and yearbook and to being our class advisers, that most of us know you more than just academically. All of us feel a close, personal relationship to you both.

Why we chose to dedicate our yearbook to you has always been obvious to all of us, and we hope that now it is clear to you. You'll forgive us if we seem a bit smug in our decision; it's only that we're so positive it's the perfect one.

ADMINISTRATION

Pictured here is the operating committee of the Southwest Butler County School System. It is made up of one elected representative of the eight parts of the system, one representative at large, and the secretary, Miss Luntz. This is the nucleus of the school board and is concerned, not only with the welfare of the existing high schools, but with getting the new Seneca Valley High ready for occupation. FIRST ROW: L. LOCAL BOARDS SERVE PRESENT, FUTURE

The Connoquenessing Valley Joint School Board is comprised of a jointure of three districts — Zelienople, Harmony, Lancaster. Although it is still a very active organization, most of its work was accomplished with the completion of the new elementary building. Before that school could be put into operation, many difficulties arose and had to be ironed out. The decisions arrived at by the School Board were many and varied. It was up to them to choose the best architect, to hire the most-qualified teachers, and to set up a curriculum which would inspire initiative and provide the best opportunity for guiding and shaping the lives of the young adults of the school.

Meetings of the Board were held twice a year. The first being in the spring for the purpose of adopting a budget, so that the financial status of the school would remain balanced. The only items of the budget were the amount of rental and cost of maintenance of the equipment used by the school that is so much a necessary part of providing a complete and well-rounded education. At this meeting, the payment of all bonds and interest on the elementary building had to be approved.

The second meeting of the year was held in December in order to reorganize for the following year. New members were elected, and efficient officers were installed to insure a successful year.

ADMINISTRATIVE HEADS DIRECT POLICY

The executive branch of our school system has been capably handled by our supervising principal, Dr. Harris Reynolds, and assistant supervising principal, Mr. Oliver Cashdollar. Zelienople High School was under the direct supervision of our principal, Mr. Ronald Clouse.

During the course of the school term, these men were prepared to render judgment on any situation that arose. Although many of these resolutions did not obtain unanimous approval from all, the majority of the student body always benefited.

The time-consuming task of arranging, rearranging, and co-ordinating the students' and teachers' schedules was a full-time job, not only during the school term, but also during the summer months.

We are aware of their contributions toward making our school an efficient organization.

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Eiler, the high school's secretaries, were always found in the main office. They were seen typing tests, keeping the various records, or running the many office machines. On Fridays, this cheerful pair could be seen in the ticket booth selling football tickets.

No matter what the task, these co-workers are deserving of praise from all, and are two of the most necessary members of the school's personnel.

The janitors, Mr. Hubert Myers and Mr. Jack McMichael attended to the physical needs of the school building, thereby facilitating better learning conditions and making everything generally more pleasant. Maintaining the building necessarily requires much work; cleaning, heating, painting, fixing windows, and snow removal are time consuming jobs. A tribute to the custodians is the fact that they did their jobs so constantly that many people were unmindful of the number of services they performed.

THE BEAUTY OF INSPIRED LEARNING . . .

The last year. Ohhh, Mmmmmmmmmmm. No-more-pen-cils-no-more-books-no-more-teach-ers . . . No more. No more laws governing my behavior and my placement. At least, now my time is really mine to spend as I wish, to use and waste. This is more than I thought. Some basic moral and American principles are involved with my being free. If I had the time and the inclination, I would sit down and think about them. I haven't either, though. Time waits for no one. I must be off! I've been still so long.

Twelve years is not one moment to eternity, but how large a part of my life? Twelve winters, snow and icicles outside the school windows, twelve springs and the sickening hurt of watching the earth change from dry, electric white to damp, limp green, watching it enviously from behind a window, learning why it did, but longing more to see it than to know.

THE WASTE OF ISOLATED LEARNING . . .

There are those who wonder endlessly and loudly why the American student does not hunger after knowledge, when so much is available. Don't they know that even a glutton can take only a measured amount at one time? My appetite has been sadly spoiled by forced-feeding.

THE GLORY OF FRIENDS . . .

But, my twelve years of schooling have given me countless things. They have given me the knowledge I will surely need to compete in a modern, advanced society. They have taught me that I must compete. On occasion, they have brought me to a teacher so interested in me and the subject that the learning process became a reality in me. They have given the camaraderie that I will remember after the book facts are forgotten, a symbol in which to place my pride, an awareness of human character traits, and, I know that they have given many things they never intended to give. But, they have taken, too. Sometimes they have taken my natural curiosity and entrusted it to an instructor who merely instilled in me a deep feeling of boredom. They have taken precious time from my life and indiscriminately wasted it.

CAUGHT IN THESE REFLECTIONS

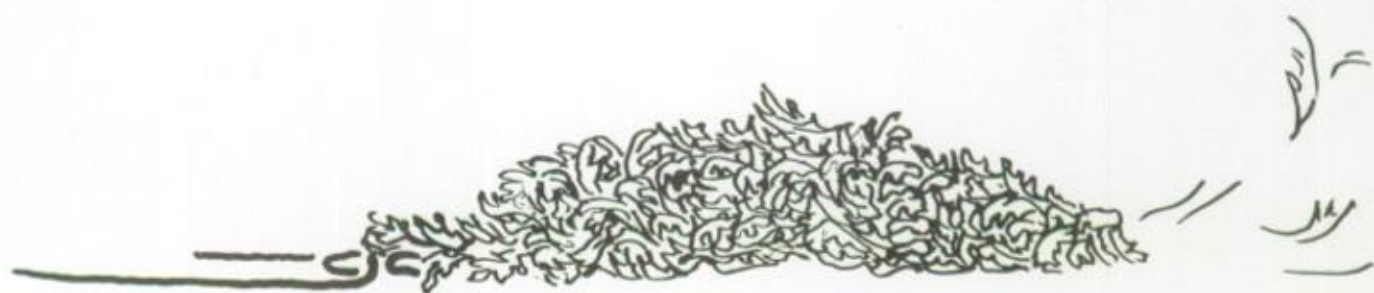

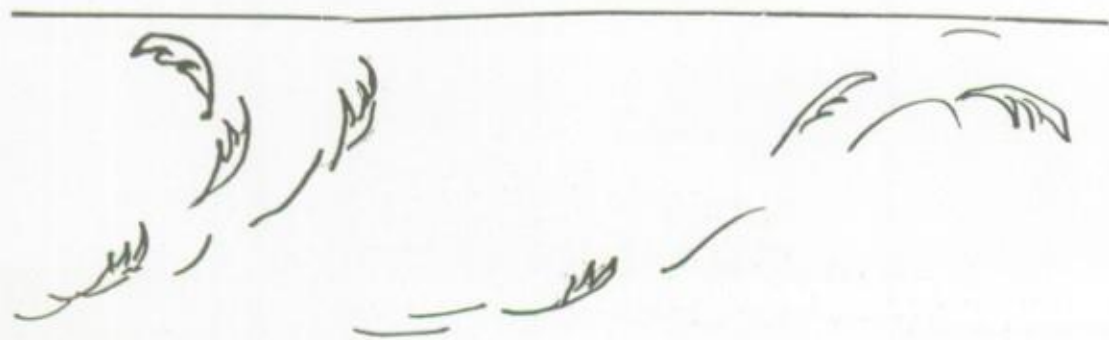

I can see no way to accurately describe these years of school. To declare them all good and worthwhile is as wrong as describing them as all bad. To try to portray these bittersweet feelings, I find impossible. Anyone who has lived through them, in trying to recall, will understand why.

— Lola Leopardi

SENIORS

"Why's Miss Loerch yelling at me?"
 "I'll never have all those lines learned by tomorrow."
 "My make-up is supposed to be pink, not orange!"
 "All right, everyone, we'll run through the scene once more." Pandemonium? No — Junior Play practice. For six weeks, rehearsals were held; then came the nerves, tempers, and misgivings of opening night. When the curtain came down to the accompaniment of the laughter and applause of a full house, cast and crew knew their worrying had been for nothing. MY SISTER EILEEN was a great success.

Louie Thomas, as Appopolous, attempts to rid his basement apartment of such unsavory characters as chorus girl, Violet Shelton, portrayed by Sharon Stahlman, while Ruth Sherwood, played by Colleen Stewart, looks on.

MY SISTER EILEEN

Janice Marks, as the over-protective mother, tries to unentangle her daughter Helen, Karen Ketterer, from associating with The Wreck, Tim Casserly.

Two happy drunks, ably played by Terry Galat and Tom Hannah, are just two more annoyances for the girls to put up with.

Eileen Sherwood, Darla Vollrath, dances out a "good neighbor policy" with six Brazilian admirals — Tom Hannah, Rich Whitman, Terry Galat, Terry Kennedy, Tom Nesbitt, and Carl Meyers.

In the first picture at the right, Eileen forceably rejects the offer of the "platonic" relationship of mild-mannered Frank, played by Dick Milo. In the second picture, Chick Clark, a "fast" newspaperman, portrayed by Bill Clayton, tries to convince Eileen that New York is not a cold friendless city.

Lonnigan the cop, Pete Knauf, checks on Violet's usual nightly arrival — being carried in by the Russian doorman, Jeff Moe.

Much to the dismay of Wilson, his attempts to capture the charms of the enchanting Myrtle Mae prove futile, as she craftily maneuvers away from his grasp.

Repeated rehearsals were needed so that all would run smoothly on opening night. Miss Kelly and Dr. Sanderson have put to good use the old adage that "practice makes perfect" and for enjoyment.

Mrs. Chumley helps Elwood in his search for Harvey, who was accidentally left behind at the sanitarium. Although the search failed to turn up Harvey, Mrs. Chumley learns about the pooka.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

WORDS BY SHARON STAHLMAN
MUSIC BY KAREN LEWIS

OUR HIGH SCHOOL DAYS ARE OVER; ALTHOUGH YESTERDAY IT SEEMS THAT

WE WERE ON-CE FRESHMAN - GRADU - A - TION JUST A DREAM.

THE DANCES, GAMES, AND PARTIES, OUR WORK WE HAD TO DID, OUR SENIOR PLAY, OUR JUNIOR PROM, WE WILL RE-MEM-BER TOO.

We will always have fond mem-'ries
Of our good old Zelie High;
The fun and hardships we shared
As the years went by.

Now at last that we are seniors,
Graduation's drawing nigh,
And though we'll go our sep-'rate ways,
We'll remember Zelie High.

Colors — Royal Blue and white

Flower — Blue and white carnations

Motto — We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give.

MAGIC OF PARIS NIGHTS DISCOVERED BY JUNIORS

Each year the Juniors and Seniors look forward with anticipation to the Prom, a traditional climax to a hard year's work. The Juniors worked hard and long to change the auditorium from a gym to a wonderland of lights and streamers and to create a romantic atmosphere. The crowning of the May Queen was the highlight of the evening. For those who attended, it was a magical evening under "Starlight in Paris."

As the May Queen candidates enter the decorated dance floor, Denny proudly offers his arm to Cheryl Clark, indicating that she has been elected to reign as Zelig High's queen for 1963.

On this most exquisite evening, a dream comes true. At this special moment, Cheryl Clark is crowned May Queen of Zelig High School. The new Queen poses regally on her throne beneath the Eiffel Tower.

STAFF CREATES

Errorless typing is a painstaking job suited only to patient experts such as Becky Cooper, Maxine Sheler, Mary Lou Blum, Karen Ketterer, and Darla Vollrath, chief typist.

The art staff — Patty Knoechel, Carol Clark, Nancy Henderson, Suzie Umbel, and Carl Meyers, art ed. — goes all out for realism in depicting the symbol of the yearbook.

CONCISE PICTURE

The ZELIE ANN staff faces the almost impossible task of trying to create an accurate picture of life at the high school through a set number of pages, a set number of words, and a series of immovable photographs. To capture some of the spirit, some of the color, the vernacular, the feeling that lies about the school, and to provide a memory of these years have been the primary aims of the staff and adviser.

This, the forty-first and final edition of the book, has been enlarged and modernized in an effort to provide a more complete image of the school, the student body, the faculty, and activities.

This last ZELIE ANN is the climax of forty-one years of a proud tradition of conscientious and hard work by various staffs through the years. Bearing this in mind, the staff hopes this book may prove a fitting epilogue.

The business staff Carol Brain, business manager, Ruthanne Brown and Sharron Butia, ass't. manager, resorts to hard-sell tactics on Tim Bowser.

ACTIVITIES

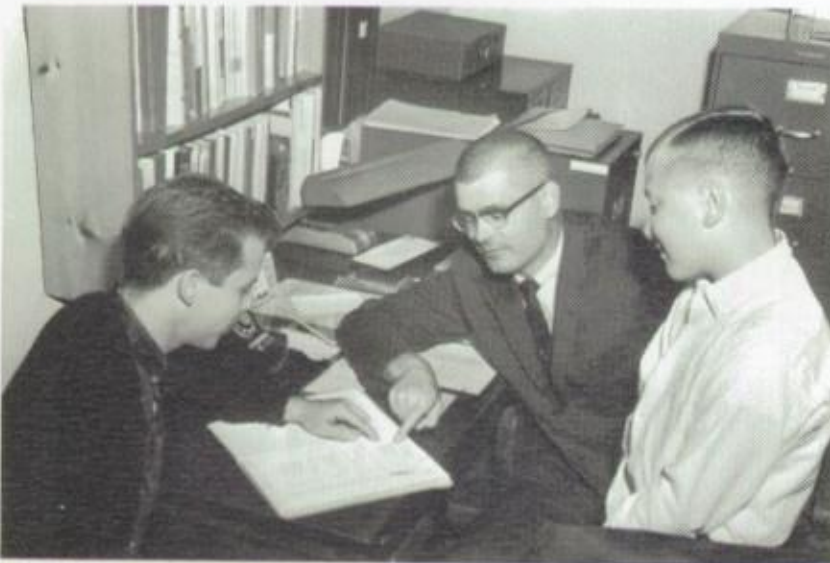

COUNCIL CONFRONTS MYRIAD PROBLEMS

ABOVE: Painting isn't the usual job of Carl Meyers, Jerry Schweingruber, or Denny Wagner of Student Council's Special Problems Committee, but solving the hall traffic problem and the other problems calls for immediate action. LEFT: While setting up the mike in the auditorium, Assembly Committee members, John Theis, Keith Dambach, and Virginia McWithey wonder whether students will like the assemblies the committee has chosen.

LOWER PICTURE: The officious secretaries of Student Council, Ruthanne Brown and Susan Gay Ziegler, conscientiously type the minutes from the previous meeting to assure the accurate keeping of records. UPPER PICTURE: Dick Wilson and Tom Sutch, members of the Ways and Means Committee, discuss high finances of Student Council with Mr. Jamison.

The executive branch of the student body had a full and busy schedule this year. Student Council was under the guidance of Mr. Jamison, and the new officers have benefited from his experience in all phases of student government work. At the beginning of the year, Council members were assigned to various standing committees. These committees had to cope with the perplexing hall jam-ups, provide the student body with interesting and educational assemblies, and present the May Queen candidates to the school.

Aside from its regular duties, Council has been given added responsibilities. Officers from Evans City and Zellenople have worked together to form a new constitution for the student government of the planned Seneca Valley High School. This joint effort will enable future Student Councils to begin where this government left off.

Wes Hamilton, vice president, and Bill Uhl, president of Student Council, daily broadcast announcements over the school-wide public address system.

ZELIE HI-LITES HERALDS YEAR'S NEWS

This year, as for the last several years, the ZELIE-HI-LITES has presented news in various fields of interest, including editorial, class, club, musical, and sports sections. This monthly publication was staffed by willing and ambitious, budding journalists from every class. The staff endeavored to uphold the HI-LITES theme, "News enlightens the world," by presenting news stories to give its many readers highlights of the month's activities.

The reporters were assigned to follow leads, gather news stories, and were careful to use the A B C's of good reporting. The editors, staff, and typists put in hours reading copy, checking for fouls and solecisms, checking line spacing, and typing the newspaper. These students have gained some practical newspaper experience which they may use in their future careers, the knowledge that they have done a job well, and at the same time, have found enjoyment in the form of an unusual experience.

Jr. Tri-Hi-Y officers, Sandy Smith, treas.; Sharon Wilson, pres.; Mrs. Brownlee, adviser; Mary Dambaugh, v. pres.; Shirley McCormick, chap.; and Nancy Kaufman, treas.; look back on this year's activities as pleasant and profitable.

These Tri-Hi-Y girls, Jackie Campbell, Bonnie Pepper, and Nancy Kerr, were part of a group who made flowers for Mother's Day for ladies at the Old People's Home.

TRI-HI-Y SERVES SCHOOL, COMMUNITY

Bank customers get to know the Tri-Hi-Y girls who serve them coffee on Saturday mornings. Here Mr. Allman is served by Gay Scheidemantle and Sue Ann Myers.

Gathered around the couch are the officers of Tri-Hi-Y, Virginia Seaman, v. pres.; Becky Cooper, sec.; Patty Knoechel, treas.; Karen Good, pres.; and Susan Gay Ziegler, chap. The girls have gathered for this informal meeting in an effort to bring new ideas to the fore.

Tri-Hi-Y members, Kathy Deemer and Cindy Ziegler, are shown with the adviser, Mrs. Marks, gathering food for local families during the Thanksgiving Season.

The Tri-Hi-Y, a club which stresses Christian character, is a nonprofit making organization which strives toward betterment of the community. To prepare for the up-coming year, the Tri-Hi-Y officers attended a convention at Grove City College.

The members of the Tri-Hi-Y actively participated in various charity drives, the Christmas assembly, and in Tri-Hi-Y Day at Butler High School. The day at Butler offered many fields of competition including swimming, bowling, and volleyball. Schools were contesting to win the first place trophy.

The Tri-Hi-Y members truly lived up to the high standards of their club as they displayed a worthwhile year of achievement through their service to others.

Barbara Sahli, Patty Myers, Carol Clark, Cindy Webster, and Diann Janovich participate in the lovely candlelight service which is held in the English Lutheran Church to receive new members into the club.

ABOVE: When the varsity sweaters for the team arrive, the girls proudly unpack them and look forward to presenting them to the boys. Shown at this happy task are Susan Ann Zeigler, Debbie Roach, and Velma Pepper. To the RIGHT: Action. Camera. These girls need no cue; they do seem to be enjoying themselves thoroughly and quite uninhibitedly. This must be the way volleyball is meant to be played.

SPORTS, SERVICE, GAMES KEYNOTE YEAR

Would anybody like a program? These loyal G.L.C. girls sell programs at the football games. All proceeds from the programs go toward buying the boys varsity sweaters.

The officers of Girls' Leaders Club, Karen Good, pres.; Karen Lewis, sec.; Linda Glenn, treas.; and Sharon Stahlman, v. pres., gather around Ma Morgan, club adviser, to plan the year's activities which include the beatnik party, the annual picnic, and unusual initiation for new members.

Two FHA members, Brett Gallagher and Mary Ann Ziegler, demonstrate the exacting art of flower arranging. The ultimate efforts of the members were displayed in the home ec. room.

FHA PUTS ACCENT ON DOMESTIC SKILL

Maxine Sheler discovers the new look in hair styles while the adviser, Mrs. Gross, explains the fine points of good grooming to Darla Vollrath and Jackie Campbell.

The members of FHA provide a useful service, washing football uniforms. Shown here are Pat Barkley and Suzie Umbel putting the varsity uniforms into the washer after a particularly muddy game.

SCHOLARS HOLD HIGH THE STANDARDS

The National Honor Society consists of deserving students whom the faculty elected on such characteristics as scholarship, leadership, character, and service. As members, these students contributed their knowledge and abilities for the benefit of the school and community. At the monthly meetings, members planned projects, discussed improvements, and increased their knowledge.

The members for the Junior edition of the National Honor Society were selected from the Sophomore and Freshman classes. Service was shown by the presentation of the Thanksgiving basket to a needy family. To conclude the year, the final meeting held was a picnic at the community park.

BOTTOM ROW: B. Crawford, K. Eichholtz, A. Roach, M. Luek, E. Rader, P. Myers, K. Nesbitt. TOP ROW: J. Fessides, S. Myers, B. Beighey, K. Zeigler, V. McWithy, V. Reidenbach, B. Sahli, Mrs. Morgan.

KNIGHTS, PAWNS FASCINATE CHESSMEN

Don Kress, pres., and Tom Bierline, v. pres., engage in a game of chess while the rest of the members and their sponsor, Mr. Cummings, kibitz.

The Chess Club was organized for the benefit of those students at Zelienople who already were interested in the game and those who wanted to learn the fundamentals of this fascinating hobby. Anyone, including girls, was welcome to join the group of devotees of this, the oldest of the skill games. Members of the Chess Club had a chance to practice, improve their game, and learn new moves.

The new advisor, Mr. Cummings, brought new ideas to the club. Each year this club has grown and added new facets to its personailty. This year the Chess Club participated in a multi-club caroling outing which brought joyful music to the residents of the community.

Although a relatively young club, the Chess Club won the right to take its place among the established clubs through its service to the school and town.

Because a bus driver cannot drive his bus and watch passengers at the same time, the Bus Patrol corps provided valuable safety service. Elected by the riders themselves, Bus Patrol members were able, for the most part, to maintain reasonable order with not more than a good-natured word or two to any offenders. Conscientious Bus Patrol members realized the responsibility delegated to them by their election to the corps. Not only were they responsible for keeping order, but were to be examples of good conduct to fellow riders.

PATROL, CLUB STRESS SAFETY, HOBBIES

The Photo Club of Zelienople High School was formed because of the interest and aptitude that many students had in photography. The club was open to anyone interested in photography. Members of the club met on the first Tuesday of each month to take pictures or develop them. They also took interesting trips in order to take pictures under different conditions. In addition, they learned new methods of lighting, special effects, enlarging, dark room procedures, and other things pertaining to photography. The club and its adviser, Mr. Bruker, have opened the way to a new hobby for the members.

FNC LENDS A HAND IN SABIN SUNDAYS

Mrs. Long and F.N.C. officers, June Chvala, v. pres.; Janice Marks, pres.; and Mary Mulvey, sec.-treas.; receive the F.N.C.'s national charter.

This has been a busy year for the newly organized Future Nurses Club. Besides making a health scrapbook, these future doctors, nurses, and medical technicians have been engrossed in planning field trips and building a library of brochures from hospitals all over the world. F. N. C. members assisted doctors in administering vaccine on Sabin Oral Sunday — a valuable experience for them. All the projects are helping to prepare them for their future careers in medicine. These projects take time, and the members have given much of their time to working for their club and making it a success.

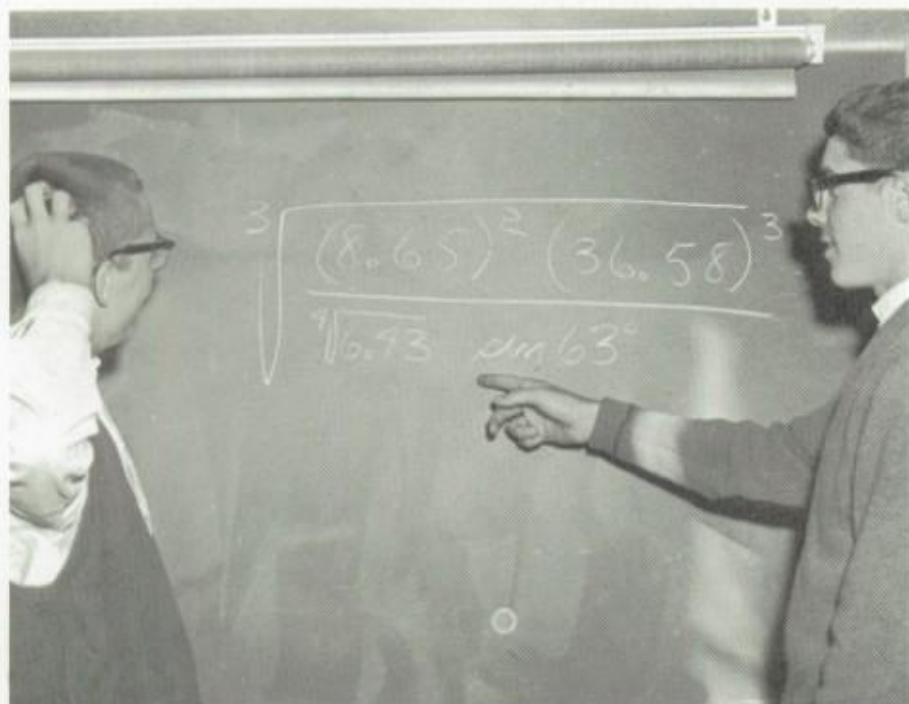

Marcy Kroner, Kathy Hindman, and Candy Kane obtain information on hospitals in different sections of the country.

MATH CLUB BALANCES BUDGET, EQUATIONS

Bill Kennedy and Ken Zeigler are having a difficult time with the initiation problems that new members are subjected to. Older members select these problems with loving care and watch delightedly the hectic attempts of the initiates.

Each year, the Math Club has been opened to those exceptional students interested in math. To receive an invitation to the club, a student must have a B+ average in math and a B average in all other subjects. Under the direction of Mr. Nelson and Mr. Parker, the members not only discovered new mathematical ideas and concepts, but assisted any other students who needed help in math. The primary purpose of the club, however, was to prove that math can be enjoyable as well as educational.

Math Club has a library of books of mathematics which are available to all members. Shown here researching some especially fascinating topics are Dave Murray, Mary Bhame, and John Bonomo.

Here the officers, Bill Uhl, pres.; Karen Lewis, v. pres.; and Sharon Stahlman, sec.-treas., are working out one of the most difficult mathematical problems — trying to balance the budget after the club's trip to Moon Twp. The result is a remainder of 2¢ to be divided generously between Mr. Parker and Mr. Nelson.

From the football field and auditorium came encouraging shouts as our cheerleaders led the crowds in victory cheers. Each touchdown and each basket was accompanied by screams of delight from the loyal fans and cheerleaders alike.

Aside from cheering at games, our pepsters sponsored the first dance of the year, "The Beat," which provided an evening's entertainment for the team and student body. Money for new uniforms and cleaning bills were the main uses of the funds raised at the dance.

BAND STRUTS FOR PARADES AND SHOWS

The band, under the direction of Mr. Perry Lewis, entertained the community in numerous ways. In addition to regular Thursday night rehearsals, a few weeks were spent at the end of the summer, practicing under the blazing sun, to prepare for football season. The band had the opportunity to perform at every football game. Their spirited music and ardent support of the cheerleaders added color to the games.

The band also participated in Pitt Band Day and in various parades which required extra time and practice from the marching bandmen.

Zelienople was well represented at Midwestern and County Bands by those musicians with exceptional ability. Much time was also spent rehearsing music for the Spring Concert, an important annual event which climaxed the year. The band represented their school well, thanks largely to the fine and diligent work of Mr. Lewis, who constructed one of Zelie's finest marching and performing bands.

ZELIE'S "SING-ALONG" CROWD ENTERTAINS

Eighth period every day, anyone going past the music room heard, raised in song, both on key and off, the voices of one of the three choruses. Boys', Girls', and Mixed Choruses worked hard to produce the beautiful music which was heard at various times during the year in assemblies.

Their midseason success, the Christmas Assembly, provided everyone with the Christmas spirit with their fine rendition of many of the old carols.

The crowning achievement of Mr. Verner's exhortations, that pitch and pronunciation are essential in singing, was the Spring Concert. Several hours of entertaining and diversified music were enjoyed by the community.

All of the work has not been lost with the end of school, for the choruses have produced many fine voices, perhaps a few music teachers, and a great deal of enjoyment.

DRAMATIZE, EXPERIMENT, AND CAMPAIGN

The Juniors decided to get the new school year off to a fine start, and to do so they first set out to surpass the Seniors in magazine sales, which they did.

The Junior football and basketball players added greatly to the two teams; the track team also benefited from class additions.

Junior representatives on both the ZELIE ANN and the ZELIE-HI-LITES gained a great deal of experience.

As the year progressed, Juniors anxiously awaited their first theatrical venture. Money was an important factor, but enjoyment and experience were even more valuable facets of the production.

Then, out of a jumble of ideas, emerged the Junior-Senior Banquet. Close on its heels came the Junior-Senior Prom, the Juniors' big night, their first formal dance, which everyone agreed couldn't have been lovelier.

Although they had new and difficult subjects such as chemistry and algebra II, everyone worked hard to excel.

They have reached the end of another year and are eagerly looking forward to a busy year as Seniors in the new Seneca Valley High School.

CLASS IN POINT: THE SOPHOMORES

When the Sophomores entered their first year of senior high, numerous new responsibilities and privileges awaited them. The class of '66 endeavored to make their first year of senior high one which all its members would remember in the future. These expressive students started by acquainting themselves with new courses, new teachers, electing class officers, and making plans for social activities. Scholastic achievement had its place in each student's life. The future biologists, math teachers, pro football players, and linguists hit the books and studied hard. They conjugated verbs, studied the Pythagorean theorem, collected leaves, wrote narrative style compositions, and dissected frogs.

After school they joined in the activities of the many extracurricular organizations. The band, chorus, and athletic teams acquired numerous capable, qualified personalities. If the Sophs were not participating in these activities, they were found cheering and supporting the teams with their enthusiastic school spirit.

As they vacate this spot to become Juniors, they will be well qualified to fill the shoes of the preceding class.

CLASS IN POINT: THE FRESHMEN

Wanting so much to look as comfortable as the confident upperclassmen, the Freshmen found it difficult to conceal their confusion, their excitement, their frustrations. They could be seen dashing through the halls only to find that it was to the wrong class or waiting for the last bell to signal the end of the day. Eagerness to learn helped many through the bewildering puzzles such as "x plus y does not equal z" and amo, amas, amat — Latin.

They are scarcely the same people now. A year full of studies, activities, and fun has given this year's Freshmen the confidence they so wanted at the beginning. Participating in various club activities, cheering at football games, selling food at basketball games, and sponsoring their own dance helped to provide a welcome distraction from the seemingly endless list of homework assignments.

This year is over at last, and with joy they look forward to shedding the title of Freshman. Although now they look forward with eagerness to becoming Sophomores, they will learn that the pleasant experiences of their Freshman year cannot easily be forgotten.

CLASS IN POINT: THE EIGHTH GRADE

Although the eighth graders were the youngest in the high school, they were in no way the least active. They could be found taking part in all extracurricular activities. Regardless of whether it was cheering our team on to victory or supporting the dances, the eighth graders were more than willing to be helpful. Their loyalty to the teams and their desire to learn proved they were eager to become a part of the whirlwind of high school life. Once they became a part of that whirlwind, they discovered that high school was even more exciting than they had imagined it would be.

Undoubtedly, they were a bit annoyed by the teasing they were subjected to by the upperclassmen, but they realized it was all meant in fun, and the good-natured eighth graders took everything in their stride.

As the year drew to a close, the eighth graders looked back upon this year as one which brought new experiences and one which prepared them for things to come in their future years in high school.

The first few weeks of school were a bit frustrating to these new junior high students, but they gradually became acquainted with their new schedules. Within the first week, these students elected their own Student Council, which met once a week to discuss any uprising problems.

Besides their own assemblies, the seventh grade also attended special assemblies at the high school. For the entertainment of both the faculty and students, the most talented of those in seventh grade participated in a talent show given before Christmas vacation.

A newspaper was also published by these industrious students.

Insufficient parking space was only one of the major traffic problems that the numerous bicycle riders encountered.

The girls were permitted to join their first high school club, the Jr. Tri-Hi-Y.

A decoration committee designed and displayed the decorations for the seventh grades first dance. During the year, four dances were organized.

This was the year of introduction to independence for the young high schoolers.

Although the Golden Bears didn't have a very good season this year, they have provided many thrills for their fans. Some of the many thrills were kickoff returns, untimely fumbles, and the goal line stands they put up against Mohawk in the final home game of the year. This was Coach Bender's 17th year of coaching, and he has compiled a very impressive record.

Next year Zelig will be combined with Evans City and be called the Seneca Valley Raiders. The Raiders will miss the services of our graduating seniors: Beighlea, guard; Bushyeager, halfback; Casserly, center; Clayton, halfback; Davison, fullback; Kennedy, tackle; Kristophel, end; Moe, tackle; Tait, end; and Wittman, halfback.

Howard Beighlea — co-captain and guard; outstanding on defense and a rugged blocker.

Larry Davison — co-captain and fullback; pile driving runner and a terror on defense.

Howard Bushyeager — small and speedy halfback; at best on defense.

Bill Clayton — fast halfback; always a breakaway threat.

Bill Kristophel — great pass-catching end; aggressive on defense.

Tim Casserly — center; rugged to move on offense and a defensive stalwart.

Jeff Moe — tackle; aggressive blocker and a defensive mainstay.

Rich Wittman — halfback; hard-hitting on defense.

Terry Kennedy — tackle; hard blocker, fast man in defensive backfield.

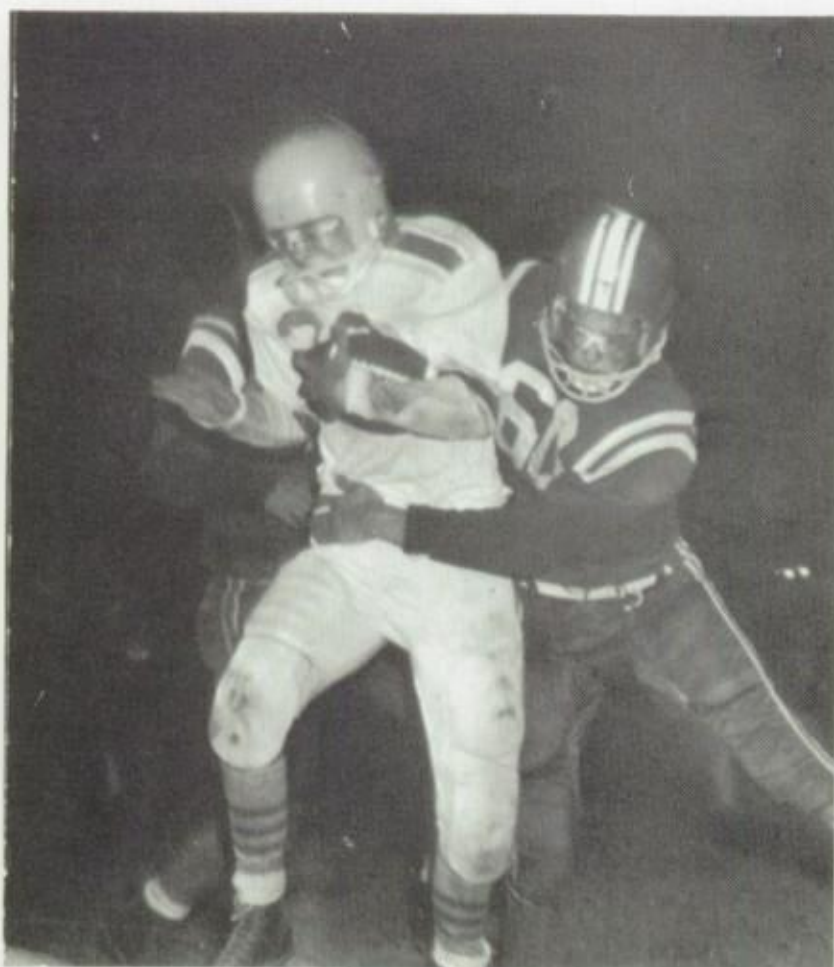

Bill Tait — end; hard man to cover, never gave up.

Clayton is stopped by a slew of Mohawk tacklers.

MOHAWK

After their impressive defeat of Richland, the Bears were determined to get even with the Mohawk Warriors for the 26-0 pounding they had given Zelig the year before. Although they were outweighed by the Warriors, the Bears' defense contained the powerful Mohawk offense. Twice, Mohawk had first down and goal inside the Zelig five-yard line, and twice the Bears' tough defense stiffened and held. But the third time Mohawk moved inside the Zelig five-yard line, they scored. The Bears did not have time enough to mount an attack; game ended in a 7-0 victory for Mohawk.

Davison drives forward for extra yardage.

AVONWORTH

In Zelig's first game of the year against Avonworth, Zelig found it tough to stop an Avonworth back, who scored four touchdowns. But the Bears put on a good showing for their fans. After trailing 19-0 at half time, a fired-up Zelig squad dominated the third quarter with Davison driving over from the 1-yard line and Frederick passing to Kristophel for another touchdown, making the score 19-13. Avonworth punted to Zelig but an untimely fumble cost the Bears possession of the ball. This seemed to break the team, and, at the final gun, the score was Avonworth 33, Zelig 13.

AVALON

Zelig played its first away game at Avalon and met a small but determined Avalon eleven. Zelig couldn't get untracked as Avalon ground out a 14-0 lead at half time. The Bears came out with more pep at half time and took the kickoff down the field only to be stopped deep in Avalon territory. Time after time, Zelig's potent offense was thwarted in Avalon territory. With time running out, Avalon started to move and squeezed in a final touchdown before the gun. After a gallant but futile effort the gun sounded as Avalon won 20-0.

Zelig defense proves alert as it stops enemy attack.

KNOCH

The largest home crowd of the season saw the Golden Bears defeated by the Knoch Knights 27-19. Definitely up for the game, the Bears scored first on a 14-yard pass from Frederick to Clayton. Knoch then marched 65 yards for their first score. A 15-yard pass from Frederick to Kristophel put the Bears ahead at half time, 13-6.

Knoch painted a different picture in the second half as they controlled the ball the rest of the game. They scored three touchdowns to pile up a score of 27 points to the Bears' 19. The fans were electrified by an 80-yard kickoff return by Bill Clayton.

Greg Magness picks up valuable yardage.

Coach Bender instructs strategy.

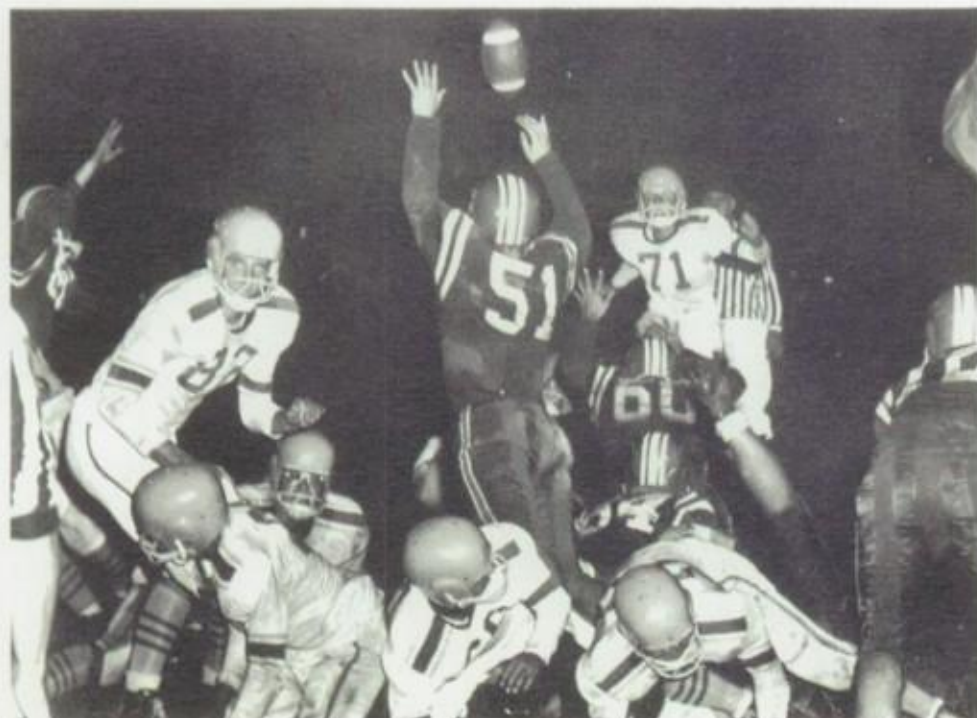

Coaches DePolo and Lane follow play.

PORT VUE LIBERTY

Zelie met a new opponent, Port Vue Liberty, for the second game and scored early as Davison burst across the goal from the 20. A fired-up Port Vue squad tied the score. Zelie scored on a pass from Frederick to Bushyeager as the gun sounded the end of the first half. With victory in their minds, the Golden Bears were raring to go. On the first play from scrimmage, Casserly recovered a Port Vue fumble. From that time on, the game was Zelie's. Three plays later, Frederick hit Kristophel for the score. With victory closer now, the Bears crashed forward for three more touchdowns. A Frederick-to-Bushyeager pass scored, Magness plunged for another, and Frederick rolled out and ran 16 yards for the last score. Every member of the squad saw action as Zelie ground out a decisive 33-6 victory.

Bushyeager gets away from enemy tacklers.

Extra Point — Bears' line holds as Kennedy's kick splits the uprights.

LAUREL

The Golden Bears traveled to Laurel for their last game of the season. Laurel drew first blood as a Zelie ball-carrier was caught in his own end zone for a safety. Zelie scored early in the third quarter when Tait outlegged the secondary for a 75-yard T. D. The Zelie line allowed but one touchdown in the second half. The final score was Laurel 22 — Zelie 6.

RICHLAND

The Bears traveled to meet a winless Ram team. Zelie jumped into the lead as Clayton scampered thirty-six yards for the score. Richland then took the lead on a pass play. The Bears went seventy yards with Magness scoring on a seven-yard run. The Bears at half time led 19-7. Zelie defeated the Rams 31-14.

BEARS SHOW MAGIC ON COURT

This being the last year for basketball at Zelienople High School, the boys were out to get something no other team had been able to achieve, the Section 20 championship. With two new coaches, Mr. Ionta, varsity coach, and Mr. DePolo, junior varsity coach, they couldn't wait to get rolling.

In their pre-season contests, the Bears defeated Freedom 74-53, interboro rival Mars 80-64, a rough Bellevue quintet 68-66 in overtime, and ended the exhibition season by setting a new scoring record in defeating Knock 100-55.

The cagers then opened the regulation section play with a 64-61 victory over a tough Laurel squad. In their next outing the Bears traveled to Union Township.

There they ran into a fired up Scottie team and as a result came out on the short end of the score 68-52. They then returned home to meet Shenango. Coach Ionta cleared the bench as the Bears demolished Shenango 87-37. The next test for the Bears was a rough one as they met an undefeated Neshannock team. With good passing, excellent team work, and tremendous spirit, the Bears downed the Lancers.

With a well balanced team and reserves, it is obvious why the Bears' cage team was a definite contender for the Section 20 championship.

BEARS GOLDEN ON TRACK

Clayton proves good form pays off enroute to a victory for Zelie.

The Zelienople High School track team did very well last year in completing their first undefeated season in many years. The Golden Bears most impressive victory was at the Tri-County Track Meet at Westminster College where Zelie took first, defeating nine other schools. The victorious thinclads took home many plaques at this meet. Zelie also proved murder to the opposing teams in dual meets, winning all of the five they had. The fallen foes were Mohawk, Riverside, Moniteau, Union, and Mercer. Mercer proved to be the most exciting meet, Zelie winning 61½ to 56½. Zelie completed its successful season by qualifying the following athletes at Mt. Lebanon: Terry Kennedy, Larry Davison, Joe Dambaugh, Denny Meyers, in the mile relay; Pat Cunningham in the pole vault, half mile, high jump; Gary Bowen and Bob Lee in the 220 yd. dash; Greg Magness in the javelin; Richard Frederick in the discus; Joe Dambaugh in the pole vault; Howard Bushyeager and Ed Cullin in the high jump.

The track team will miss the following seniors this year, Pat Cunningham, pole vault, high jump, and half mile; Joe Dambaugh, 440, mile relay, and pole vault; Denny Meyers, 440, mile relay, and shot put; Junie Rape, broad jump, pole vault, and discus; Dave McCoy, high jump, javelin, and discus; Gary Werner, shot put.

Lee puts forth an extra effort in order to break the school record.

A perfect Clayton to Bowen hand-off sets Bowen in search of victory.

Straining under the pressures of battle, Kennedy proves to be a worthy opponent.

Bushyeager's leap is picture-perfect as he jumps to victory.

All hopes are on Davison as he strives toward victory.

Lee crosses the finish line and chalks up more points toward a Zelienople victory.

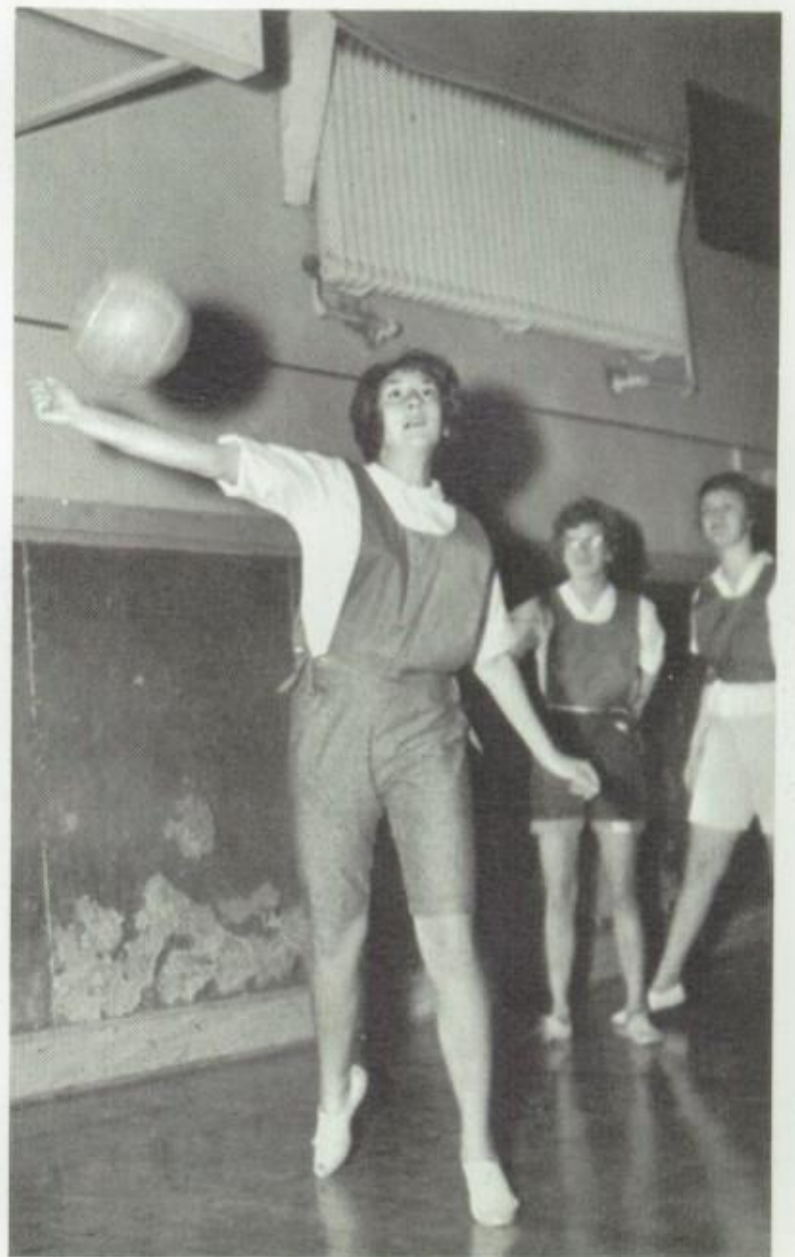

It's all Zelienople as Kennedy and Dambaugh race toward the finish line.

CANDID VIEW OF

GIRLS' SPORTS

Determination is one of the many attributes required of a player of girls' basketball. Bravery is another, as is demonstrated by this slightly unorthodox attempt at a rebound.

Girls battle for points in a rousing game of batball which is one of the many sports in which the girls participate during the year.

In the above pictures, Velma throws a perfect pitch as her team remains on the alert for fast action. Pat, striving to make another point to win the game, hits the ball as she receives encouragement from fellow teammates.

Class rivalries flared as girls took the gym floor to oppose each other. Classes were pitted against one another, and competition was indeed sharp. The girls engaged gamely in swift and reckless games of volleyball, kickball, basketball, and batball.

Those girls who had earned enough points were presented with emblems and letters on recognition day. Other girls had been working to total up enough points to be eligible to join the Girls' Leaders Club. Intramurals also provided an excellent opportunity to gain dexterity and co-ordination and, to keep physically fit.

The intramural program was supervised by "Ma" Morgan, who was able to teach dozens of flighty femmes the intricate rules of girls' basketball.

Volleyball and batball were relatively safe games to most girls, but games of kickball and basketball occasionally were known to become brutal in feminine terms of broken fingernails and bruised knees. Obviously, intramural sports offered much more than bumps and bruises as testified by the girls who played and enjoyed them every year.

Pat finds it is no easy task keeping the ball, which obviously has a mind of its own, from hitting the wall, thus giving the opposing team another point.

The whistle blows, the girls rush out, and pandemonium breaks loose as the girls try their luck at kickball, one of the intramural games that develops the girls' skill.

Carol and Bonnie make an all out attempt to bring their team victory. By protecting the wall they see to it that the ball does not get past them, scoring a point for the opposing team.

ALMA MATER

When through thy valley, Zelienople, twilight falls,
Bringing its silence to our high school halls,
In that happy moment, love for Alma Mater swells,
And the heart, outpouring, of her glory tells.
Zelienople High School, fairest Alma Mater,
Zelienople High School, may we honor her.

Far from thy valley, yearly rove thy loving sons,
Yet, in their dreaming, e'er thy name returns;
'Tis the same fond spirit, which the memory lingers o'er,
And the lips but echo that old song of yore.
Zelienople High School, fairest Alma Mater,
Zelienople High School, may we honor her.
